

WARRIOR-POET

In the final days of the crumbling Empire of the Moon, the Warrior-Poets of peerless beauty roam the land. They are inspirational leaders, shrewd diplomats, fearsome fighters, and passionate lovers. They can break free of the bonds of space and time. They can move the stars in the heavens, if they please. Their passion creates lush valleys and orchards of cherry blossom; their anger, great wastelands; their sadness, monsoon rains; and their betrayal, vicious blizzards. But all beauty fades. Come the end the year, they lose their power. They will die – at their own hand or by those of another – or they will fade away to nothing. I am one of them.

When another performs an Action I oppose: "This cannot stand. We will duel."

If I want to ask for help opposing another: "Will anyone help me stop them?"

When I am opposed by another: "Will anyone help me succeed?"

When a Duel occurs, we roll the dice. The highest number of matching dice wins BUT ... it is possible to earn more dice through the artful use of Battle-Haiku.
